

THE WEDDING DAY REVIVED.
Mr. and Mrs. C. T. McFarland Celebrate
The 2d Anniversary of Their Wedding.

Wednesday, March 22nd, was the second anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. McFarland's wedding day, and desiring to recall the event and the happy results that have come of it, they celebrated the occasion in appropriate manner last evening with the assistance of some friends who have been very near and dear to them during the intervening years, and even prior to the marital relation. In our opinion true friendship is a brighter jewel than the sparkling diamond, of far greater value and is appreciated the more by us. With all our sins of commission and omission we at least hope the world will not judge us of infidelity toward our friends.

Many young people think the occasion which revives the marriage hour not so replete of happiness as the event itself. This is an erroneous idea to which none but those who have had experience can bear competent testimony. True it is, fate (we know of no better word) associates many incongenial nature in wedlock, from which no good ever comes, but sorrow and disaster instead.

But we find ourselves wandering toward a field irrelevant to the occasion at least if not the subject, and hasten back to where we left off.

There were present last evening about fifty persons, and if the host and hostess are permitted to judge, they flatter themselves with the belief that all enjoyed themselves unrestrained and to the fullest extent.

For the many handsome and useful presents we are thankful indeed, but the spirit in which those presents were given, and the universal expressions of renewed friendship for the future, gave encouragement, and left impressions that will live and go down with us in the grave.

The following lines accompanied a beautiful book from Mrs. S. B. James:

When in future, you look on this evening's proffers
Of tokens, of friendship, duty and love
Some—will speak plainly of fullness of coffers
Some—of motives, pure and good, from above.

But let none beguile you into believing,
Any surpass this offer of mine,
When other returns again, you're reviving,
Keep thinking mine, the finest of fine.

Look kindly on "books" blest souls of solace
For earth's weary ones lie hidden within,
Kindly! more kindly, for in cottage or palace
Nothing more permanent pleasure can win.

So while books your second anniversary
greet;
Keep one smile brightest, and for them
set apart,
For as near to a printer, and almost as sweet
As the wife of his bosom—lies his art.

Quick and Sure.
Many miserable people drag themselves about with failing strength, feeling that they are steadily sinking into their graves, when by using Parker's Ginger Tonic they would find a cure commencing with the first dose, and vitality and strength quickly and surely coming back to them.

March 1-1-11.
Mr. N. M. Stoddard, of the firm of Levy & Stoddard at Rockville, was in the city Wednesday, attending court. His town he says is growing rapidly. That town is in Bates county, recollect.

Mr. T. A. Roberts and Miss Sada Varner were married on Thursday evening at the residence of Mr. T. H. Purbrance, in this city. Elder Brown hitched the couple up.

The local editor hasn't determine just how much stock he will take in the railroad yet, but as soon as he disposes of some other important matters he will give this matter his attention.

Ben Sellers got struck by the boom on yesterday, and he whirled in and painted the curbing of his well, his chicken ladder and ash hopper. That's the way the boom affects a Butlerite.

Go in any direction you may, in the city, and the hum of progress and enterprise greets your ears. There is no city in all Missouri that is having such a rapid growth as Butler at present. Rah! for the queen city of the southwest.

Dr. J. W. Morris has bought of Mr. Hepler the business house he has been occupying for some time on the east side of the square. Don't know what the Dr. paid.

The rail road meeting was right enthusiastic last night, we think we see the silver lining of a bright and glorious future for Bates county and the queen city of the Southwest.

B. A. Fahnestock's
VERMIFUGE.

It is now over fifty years since this medicine was offered as a remedy for Worms, and from that time its reputation has steadily increased until at the present day it is almost universally acknowledged throughout nearly all parts of the world to be the sovereign remedy. Children often look pale and sickly from no other cause than Worms and spasms are most frequently the result of these hidden sappers and miners. Many a helpless child has been laid in the grave when the disease which caused its death has been entirely misunderstood, and when worms have been really the cause; therefore parents especially mothers, who are constantly with their children, cannot be too observing of the first symptoms of worms, for surely as they exist can they be safely and speedily removed from the most delicate infant, by the timely use of B. A. FAHNESTOCK'S VERMIFUGE. Great Caution must be used by every purchaser to examine each bottle he buys. The simple name of Fahnestock is not sufficient, he must look closely and see that the initials are "B. A." and be satisfied with nothing else. 10-41
